

The question should be how to create less media concentration and more diversity of opinion NOT how much to relax the rules to allow more concentration and higher profits.

The mere fact that this proposed rule making is not being covered by the for profit broadcast media is evidence enough that we need more diversity not less.

Democracy can not exist under a tyranny of the majority.